

KEYSTONE
TRADE MARK

WAR MAP OF

Western Battle Front of Europe

WITH BATTLE LINES
SHOWN IN RED

"The Battle Ground of Freedom"
Where Our Boys are Fighting

KENYON'S MAP of the WESTERN BATTLE FRONT
Scale of Miles
EXPLANATION
Railways Boundaries of Countries -- and in Colors
Canals Roads
Copyright 1918 The Kenyon Co., Map Makers, Des Moines, Iowa

Whistance-Smith Collection

The DOTTED Line No. 1 represents advance in 1914

No. 1 on the Map Shows Germany's Farthest Advance in 1914.

No. 2 Shows the Battle Line on Thursday, March 21st, When the German Offensive was Started.

No. 3 Shows the Extent of Territory Regained by Germany in First Two Weeks' Fighting.

No. 4 Shows the Location of the Big Guns Which Dropped Shells on Paris From a Distance of 76 Miles.

No. 5 Shows Paris, One of the Great Objectives of the Huns.

No. 6, 7 and 8 Show the Channel Ports of Calais, Dunkirk, and Boulogne, Which the Germans are Striving for.

No. 9 and 10 Show Amiens and Arras, Two Strongly Fortified Towns, Around Which Great Battles are Being Fought.

No. 11 Shows Hazebrouk, and Battle of Flanders.

No. 12 Shows Battleground of Mt. Kemmel.

No. 13 Shows Sector Where American Troops are Located.

No. 14 and 15 Shows Ostende and Zeebrugge, Scene of Courageous Attempt of British Naval Force to Destroy the Moles and Canal Entrances.

EUROPE, WESTERN R-12 (C1918)

Index of Towns on Map of Western Europe

[illegible]